

Devin Atteln studied organ with Jeffrey Verkuilen at St. Norbert College where he was an Honors Graduate in 2014. In 2018 he graduated from the Master of Sacred Music Program (MSM) at the University of Notre Dame where he studied organ with Craig Cramer and Doug Reed. During his time at Notre Dame, Devin participated in master classes with distinguished organists such as Jonathan Moyer and Christophe Mantoux. In addition to performances throughout Wisconsin and Indiana, some of the highlights of Devin's music career have included performances in Germany, Austria, and Spain. Devin is a member of the Northeastern Wisconsin Chapter of the American Guild of Organists (AGO) and the Organ Historical Society (OHS). In 2014 Devin earned the E. Power Biggs Fellowship to be a "Biggs Fellow" at the OHS Convention in Syracuse, NY. Devin has earned the Colleague of the American Guild of Organists certification (CAGO). In addition to a music degree, he earned a Bachelor of Arts Degree in German from St. Norbert College. He is also an avid fan of Star Wars, sports, and general trivia.
